

Rob Cary

Special Executive, Transportation &
Sustainable Infrastructure
Deloitte Consulting LLP Line 2

Rob Cary is a national leader in Deloitte’s transportation practice where he works with transportation organizations on their most pressing transportation and infrastructure challenges. Rob also leads Deloitte’s work nationally in Sustainable Infrastructure. Prior to joining Deloitte, Rob completed a 30-year career with the Virginia Department of Transportation. During his final four years with the agency, he was appointed by Virginia’s Governor as VDOT’s Chief Deputy Commissioner. In that role, Rob led the agency’s 7,750 employees in delivering projects and services to the Commonwealth’s 8.5 million residents utilizing a $7.2 billion annual budget. Rob’s experience spans all aspects of transportation including planning, design, construction, operations, maintenance, and administration. Rob holds a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from Virginia Tech and is a licensed professional engineer and a land surveyor.